Didsbury Ramblers Gain Two Ties In Holiday Fixtures

Although they have yet to turn in a winning game in their initial season in the Central Alberta Hockey League, Didsbury Ramblers certainly have never stopped trying and have been in contention in all games except one. Of the games they have played to date, they have garnered a total of points on tie games while with the odd break, could have been winning encounters.

Due to shortage of space this week and the number of games played since our last issue, we are only able to list scores of contests played during Dec. 23.

Friday, Dec. 26—Olds 6, Didsbury 6; Saturday, Dec. 27—Lacombe 4, Didsbury 4; Monday, Dec. 29—Ponoka 12, Didsbury 0; Thursday, Jan. 1—Olds 7, Didsbury 6; Saturday, Jan. 3—Ponoka 6, Didsbury 4.

Cutouts

For the next few weeks my letters will deal with the various kinds of insect pests that are often responsible for crop loss. You may find it to your advantage to clip these letters for future reference.

When you find young plants cut off at, near, or just below the ground, especially in spring and early summer, you are probably responsible for the damage. You can often find the guilty worm in a small burrow in the soil close by. A cutworm is the young or caterpillar of a night-flying moth. The moth lays its eggs on plants or other objects, sometimes directly on the ground; these eggs hatch into worms. The common ones are stout, well-fed, soft-bodied, smooth or nearly smooth, and cylindrical, with color varying from gray to brown or nearly black, and sometimes spotted or marked with spots. Most cutworms hibernate through the winter in the soil and begin work early in the spring.
Cutworms ordinarily work at night, but often feed on dark, cloudy days. They grow until summer, when they change in the soil to a brown pupal stage and later to adults. They usually have only one or two generations a year. These pests are capable of destroying cereal crops as well as certain garden plants.

For bait mix 2 tablespoons of Paris Green with one gallon dry bran. After these are well mixed dry, add sufficient water and stir until smooth and free of lumps.
Sprinkle this bait in the evening within several inches of the roots of garden plants which you wish to protect.

Several application may be required to rid the area of cutworms.

EXTEND RABIES QUARANTINE

An outbreak of rabies in northern Canada has brought the federal government to the movement of dogs out of the designated area and an order that all dogs be confined. Only permission from proper authorities will allow the movement of dogs.

The areas designated in the order issued by Dr. J. G. Taggart, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and implemented in December, 1952, includes the portions of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba lying north of the 55th parallel. Pitlochrie, Sask., is on the 55th parallel which passes somewhat south of Lesser Slave Lake in Alberta; cuts through the south end of La Ronge, Sask., and Sands Narrows, Saskatchewan. Man. is four miles north of the 55th, and Oxford House, Man. just south of it.

Only sled dogs will be allowed to move outside the area and care must be taken that they do not run at large. Owners or custodians of dogs will be liable to a penalty of $100 to a penalty of $1,000 under the Animal Contagious Diseases Act.
All dogs that can be reached are being vaccinated. Additional supplies of vaccine were moved into these areas and all people briefed concerning precautions for their own safety and to prevent the spread of the disease. Work is being done in person and by radio, in the English and Indian languages. It is planned, in this way, to set up a barrier to keep the disease from spreading southward.

It has been known that rabies exists among the predatory animals, mainly wolves and foxes, in the Northwest Territories. (where restrictions already exist) for the wild life population of the north, abetted by a decrease in trapping

ALBERTA FARM INCOME HIGHEST IN DOMINION

Alberta's farmers are the most prosperous in Canada, according to the latest return from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics based on the census of 1951.

It is stated, in a report on the value of farm products sold, that out of Alberta's total farms sold products worth more than $20,000 in 1950. The only province which topped this was Ontario with 14,920. But Alberta's total was 15 per cent of Canada's total, against Ontario's 13.

In Canada there were 623,661 farms in 1950 on which 4,499 families earned more than $20,000. 4,249 between $15,000 and $19,999, and 12,594 between $10,000 and $14,999. The biggest group was those which earned between $1,200 and $2,499. This was 151,290.

Except for Alberta and Ontario the figures were higher in the southern provinces.

Alberta had 1,015 farms earning between $15,000 and $19,999, and its biggest group was 21,177 in the $1,200 and $2,499 range.
Ontario had 1,801 earning between $15,000 and $19,999, and 32,742 between $1,200 and $2,499.
The smallest number in the high income bracket was Prince Edward Island, with only six out of 10,137 farms. Quebec had 175 out of 134,331 farms and Saskatchewan had 392 out of 112,018 farms.

On a percentage basis, there were only seven-tenths of one per cent of farms in Canada earning more than $20,000 a year, against Alberta's 1.5 per cent. Saskatchewan had 4 per cent and the lowest were Quebec and Prince Edward Island with one-tenth of one per cent each.

The top bracket, for those farms with incomes of between $15,000 and $19,999, Alberta tied top with Ontario, at 1.2 per cent. The figure for Canada was seven-tenths of one per cent.

activities, has sent the wild beasts farther south in search of food, infesting domestic dogs as they prowl and forage for sustenance. Provincial and federal authorities are co-operating closely to control the disease.

NOTICE

I regret any misunderstanding which may have arisen with regard to notices recently sent out to parents. The notice was incorrectly worded and it was NOT intended to convey the impression that Dr. McKenzie was leaving Didsbury but was intended to mean that I myself was leaving at the end of the year. I apologize for any inconvenience that might have been caused.
